   j) Reviews benchmarks and outcomes

2. Front-end involvement in planning
a) The Planning & Budget Committee will:

1) As appropriate, review important District planning documents (e.g., Educational Master Plan, Strategic Direction, Unit Plan Guidance, Multi-year Integrated Planning System (MIPS), Planning, Budget and Assessment process etc.) to guide its subsequent input into planning for the allocation/reduction process.

2) Annually review the prior year’s Board Budget Criteria and makes recommendations for continuation or changes to the President for consideration by the Board.

3) Annually make recommendations to the President concerning Budget Planning Guidelines for the upcoming year.

4) Annually be advised about the activities of the Enrollment Management Committee relevant to student access, equity and success planning.

5) Annually review the Committee’s progress and performance to assess the effectiveness of the budget process and, if necessary, propose modifications to the President.

6) Periodically review financial documents.

b) Organizational Process of Budgeting

The planning and budgeting process will take place throughout the organizational structure of the college. The President will give guidance to the vice presidents, the vice presidents will give guidance to the deans and directors, and then the deans, department chairs, coordinators, and directors will guide the department level planning process. Guidance will be given top-down, and then plans will be created and submitted bottom-up in accordance with the established guidelines. The Planning & Budget Committee will review the recommendations for the allocation/reduction of on-going and one-time funds that come through the organizational process.

3. Back-end Involvement in Reviewing and Recommending the Proposed Plans

a) After the President’s Leadership Team reviews, discusses and prioritizes the needs of the institution identified through the organizational process described above, their recommendation in prioritized order will be forwarded to the Planning & Budget Committee. The Planning & Budget Committee will review and make recommendations to the President regarding the President’s Leadership Team’s draft prioritization plan. The Planning & Budget Committee will review this information based upon all the planning documents and criteria discussed above. The President will review and respond to the Planning & Budget Committee’s recommendations.

b) Be advised about the planning process for special and major new categorical programs.

c) Conduct campus-wide forums to inform the campus community about the budget and the status of the process.
