Background: About the ACCJC Annual Report

In accordance with federal regulations and the Commission Policy on Monitoring Institutional Performance, ACCJC applies a set of annual monitoring and evaluation approaches to assess member institutions' strengths, stability, and ongoing alignment with the Standards during the course of the accreditation review cycle. The Annual Report (AR) is one of the tools used for this process. Using institutions' self-reported data, the ACCJC Annual Report collects headcount information to monitor institutional growth (including growth in distance and correspondence education) and institution-set standards for key indicators of student achievement, licensure exam pass rates, and job placement rates.

To assist you as your institution prepares its responses, you can find additional information, data definitions, and a printable version of the 2025 survey questions at <https://accjc.org/wp-content/uploads/Annual-Report-Instructions-and-Questions-1.pdf>.

Technical Notes for the 2025 Annual Report Survey

The 2025 Annual Report collects data for the three-year period that includes 2021-2022, 2022-2023, and 2023-2024.

Additional information and data definitions are provided in the instruction text where relevant.

All questions with an * are required.

If a question is not applicable, please enter n/a.

If you are copying and pasting figures from a Word or PDF document, please ensure your numbers don't have extra (trailing) spaces in the end.

Answers are saved automatically, and can be accessed and revised as many times as needed prior to submission.

Use the "Section Navigator" buttons on the next page to jump between sections.

Submitting the 2025 Annual Report Survey

To submit a final copy, follow the instructions in the Final Step page of the online survey. When the survey has been submitted, the College ALO and the individual completing the survey (if different) will receive email confirmation of submission and a copy of the survey responses. ACCJC will forward a final PDF copy of the Annual Report to the ALO and CEO for final review (and adjustment, if needed). If no corrections or adjustments are needed, the PDF copy will stand as the final, certified copy of the Annual Report.

This is the Section Navigator which will allow you to jump to any sections of the survey. You can complete the sections in any order and if you need to return to the main page, please use the back button.

To begin or return to a section, please click the Answer button.

The Next button at the bottom of this page will bring you to the final page of the survey. You will not be able to proceed until all sections of the survey have been completed.

If you can't complete a section in one sitting, click Back to navigate back to the section navigator to complete a different section.

5. Total unduplicated headcount enrollment for last three years:

For the purposes of this report, unduplicated headcount is defined as the total number of students (credit and non-credit) enrolled at the end of the general enrollment period (also referred to as first census date). The academic year should include leading summer, fall, winter, and spring terms. If your institution calculates the academic year differently for the purposes of monitoring annual enrollment, you may respond using your local calculation and describe your method in Question 20.

Per federal regulations, ACCJC is responsible for monitoring for significant program growth (or decline) that may potentially impact an institution's ability to meet Accreditation Standards. ACCJC does not determine what constitutes a program for colleges. For the purposes of this report, you may define degree-applicable credit programs as appropriate for the context of your institution's unique mission.

For the purposes of this report, include only those courses that are 100% online in your calculation of unduplicated headcount enrollment for distance education. Do not include hybrid courses or courses in which all the class hours are face to face, but some material is posted online.

8. Do you offer Correspondence Education?

Correspondence education is defined as education in which (1) the institution provides instructional materials (and examinations on these materials), by mail or electronic transmission (including transmission via learning management system) to students who are separated from the instructor; and where (2) interaction between the instructor(s) and the student is limited, is not regular and substantive, and is primarily initiated by the student. Online courses or online portions of courses which primarily involve "paperwork" (e.g., reading textbook and other materials posted by the instructor, taking examinations, and submitting assignments) will fall within the definition of correspondence education rather than distance education. If the online portion of a class meets the definition of correspondence education, then even if the class also meets on site, it will be considered a correspondence education course for Title IV qualification purposes. Correspondence education is not considered distance education within the U.S. Department of Education definition (see question 7, above).

Reflecting on your score above, describe how your college is supporting continual improvement and innovation in alignment with the ACCJC Standards and guidelines for data transparency on your institution’s public website? (100 words)

Butte College's self-determined outcome transparency score could be improved in each area of the rubric. While data is available on the website, it tends to be intended for use by a compliance-focused audience. In some cases, the data and surrounding webpages were developed purely for internal users. Predominantly, the student audience was considered during the development of most of the college's webpages; however, there is little reflection or storytelling related to data and figures posted on webpages. Butte College is redeveloping its website and will keep the rubric in mind to help us better tell our story of student success.

12. Course Completion Rates

For the purposes of this report, the successful course completion rate is calculated as the number of student completions with a grade of C or better divided by the number of students enrolled in the course. If your institution calculates successful course completion differently, you may respond using your local calculation and describe your methodology in Question 18.

19. Does your college offer Career and Technical Education Programs?

Yes

For the purposes of the Annual Report, Job Placement Rate is defined as the percentage of students who are employed in the year following completion of a CTE (career-technical education) certificate or degree program. (This means that the denominator for the 2022-2023 job placement rate will be the number of students who completed the program in 2021-2022.) Report only those programs with a minimum of 10 students in the completion year. For example, if a program had 9 students complete in 2021-2022, you do not need to report a job placement rate for 2022-2023. Report only those programs for which reliable data are available. If your institution has defined its job placement rate differently than what is described above, you may complete this question using your local definition provided that you describe this definition in Question 20.

Our institution has programs that meet these conditions.

In this Annual Report, ACCJC seeks to gain additional insights from our member institutions. Regarding student achievement data, these questions seek to learn more about how colleges are advancing student achievement, challenges faced, and support needed.

21. Reflecting on your Institution's student achievement(s), what efforts/initiatives/competencies have you found to be fundamental in supporting the recent successes you've observed/reported? Please describe any innovations and improvements along with a brief narrative of how it was achieved. (max 200 words)

Over the past three years, our college has made meaningful strides in student achievement, as reflected in gains in job placement, credential completion, and licensure pass rates. These outcomes result from intentional alignment between programs and regional workforce needs, continuous curriculum refinement, and strengthened student support through our Guided Pathways framework, including Student Success Teams assigned to each pathway.

High-demand programs such as Diesel Technology, Nursing, and Paramedic achieved 93–100% job placement rates in 2023–24, driven by expanded employer partnerships, internships, and curriculum tailored to real-world competencies. Business Management and Accounting also saw notable improvements after embedding career readiness into instruction.

College-wide course completion rates remain strong, supported by expanded tutoring and supplemental instruction through the Center for Academic Success. Student participation in these services has surged, contributing to improved outcomes. Student Success Teams—comprised of faculty, counselors, and student success specialists—now provide targeted outreach and intervention to help students stay on track.

Certificate and degree completions continue to rise, with certificates nearing our stretch goal and associate degrees trending upward. Licensure exam pass rates in programs like Nursing and Cosmetology highlight how focused faculty development and academic support translate into successful workforce entry.

22. What professional development can the Commission coordinate to support your Institution in achieving its student success goals within the next three-year cycle? (max 200 words)

Our college would benefit from continued professional development on the use of data for institutional reflection and storytelling. Our midterm report is due next year, and after that, we will be turning our attention to the next comprehensive institutional self-evaluation, which will be based on the new standards. As we begin analyzing and reflecting on our institutional trajectory under those new standards, support for the narrative approach to data analysis would be beneficial. The gathering we hosted for the ACCJC last month was very helpful in orienting us toward the new direction of narrative writing under the 2024 standards. Continued opportunities for this type of training and team development would be helpful for our institution.
