Course Description: This course is an in-depth exploration of clay as a medium of expression, with emphasis on individual ideas and directions. Students will concentrate on creating a personal vocabulary of imagery, construction methods, and surface treatments, and will develop and draw upon a broad awareness of historical as well as contemporary ceramic artworks.

Objectives

Upon successful completion of this course, the student should be able to:

1. Describe and explain the uses of various types of clays, glazes, firing techniques, and elements of kiln design.
2. Design and create sophisticated clay forms using a variety of forming techniques, such as coil, slab, wheel-throwing, extrusions, and combination methods.
3. Utilize glaze calculation and advanced techniques of application to successfully achieve finished surfaces with desired colors, textures, and design elements.
4. Describe, explain, and utilize the influences of historical, as well as contemporary precedents, in the creation of original sculpture and pottery.
5. Create a portfolio of finished work that and demonstrates technical proficiency, originality, creative problem-solving, and personal self-expression.

Examples of Assignments

Reading Assignments

1. Prior to attending class during which we examine the development of individual expression and personal voice, read "The Artist's Vision" in the textbook "The Ceramics Bible". Come to class prepared to discuss "The Creative Process", "Social Concerns", and "Personal Imagery".
2. Read the chapter on "Worldwide Interaction" in the textbook "The Ceramics Bible". Come to class prepared to discuss 20th century ceramic artists and their works.

Writing Assignments

1. Keep a journal in which you sketch and write entries describing the evolution of form and concept for all assigned clay projects.
2. Pick two ceramic artists whose work you find especially intriguing. Write a 1-2-page paper describing, interpreting, and evaluating the artists' best works in comparison. What are the elements of their personal style?

Out-of-Class Assignments

1. Attend a local or regional art show, an exhibition at an art museum, or visit online collections available through large museum websites (like the Asian Art Museum) to get ideas for sculptural forms. Take photographs (where permitted) or make sketches of forms you are interested in for future reference. Alternative options to complete this assignment will be identified in the instructions.
2. Look for interesting architectural elements, that could be made out of ceramics, on older buildings in one or more of our local communities or research online. Photograph these and bring to class to share and to generate ideas.
